

The Arizona Civil War Council, Inc.

The Arizona Civil War Council (ACWC) is the oldest, continually serving reenactment group in the state of Arizona. It was formed in 1983 and incorporated in 1986 as a 501(c)3 nonprofit educational organization.

We love to teach history, in classrooms, at reenactment events, and at multiple events across the country. Members of the ACWC participate in several events throughout the year including reenactments, living history displays, parades, school lectures, cultural events, state park demonstrations, and have served as extras in movies and television shows.

Members of the ACWC participate as both Union and Confederate soldiers. The four units include:

- Company D, 1st U.S. Infantry Regiment
- 6th Texas Infantry/15th Texas Cavalry
- Savannah Light Artillery
- Civilians Auxiliary Guild

The group initially began portraying the American Civil War and the western Indian Wars, but over the years, the time periods have expanded to include the American Revolutionary War, the Spanish-American War, and World War II.

The majority of our membership consists of infantry and civilians, but a few individuals participate as mounted cavalry or artillery. We have participated in events across the nation, including California, Nevada, New Mexico, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, Canada as well as the Royal Tournament in London, England.

While we may go from California to Canada to England, our primary focus for living history events remains in Arizona.

We welcome all new members who love history, love to teach it, camp in period tents, and re-live American history. We meet the first Sunday of each month.
